TRIB LIVE

A Homewood woman is accused of using a stolen car to steal merchandise from the Walmart in the Pittsburgh Mills shopping complex.

Frazer police charged Janlynn Marie Jordan, 31, with receiving stolen property, retail theft, criminal conspiracy, and traffic violations in connection with the incident at about 6:40 p.m. Wednesday.

Jordan allegedly drove two other people to the Walmart in Frazer and, together, the three stole more than $500 worth of merchandise, court documents say.

The two other suspects are Deondra Shree Bundy and Shane Evans.

Bundy, 30, of Pittsburgh's Garfield neighborhood, faces charges of criminal conspiracy, retail theft and defiant trespassing.

Online court records for Evans weren't immediately available Thursday afternoon.

IRIB

Two Philadelphia men are accused of stealing nearly $41,000 worth of cellphones last month from the Walmart store in Frazer, and they are suspected in similar thefts in at least two other states.

"This is the biggest theft we've ever had at that Walmart by far. It is the largest singular incident of retail theft that we've ever had in Frazer," said township police Chief Terry Kuhns.

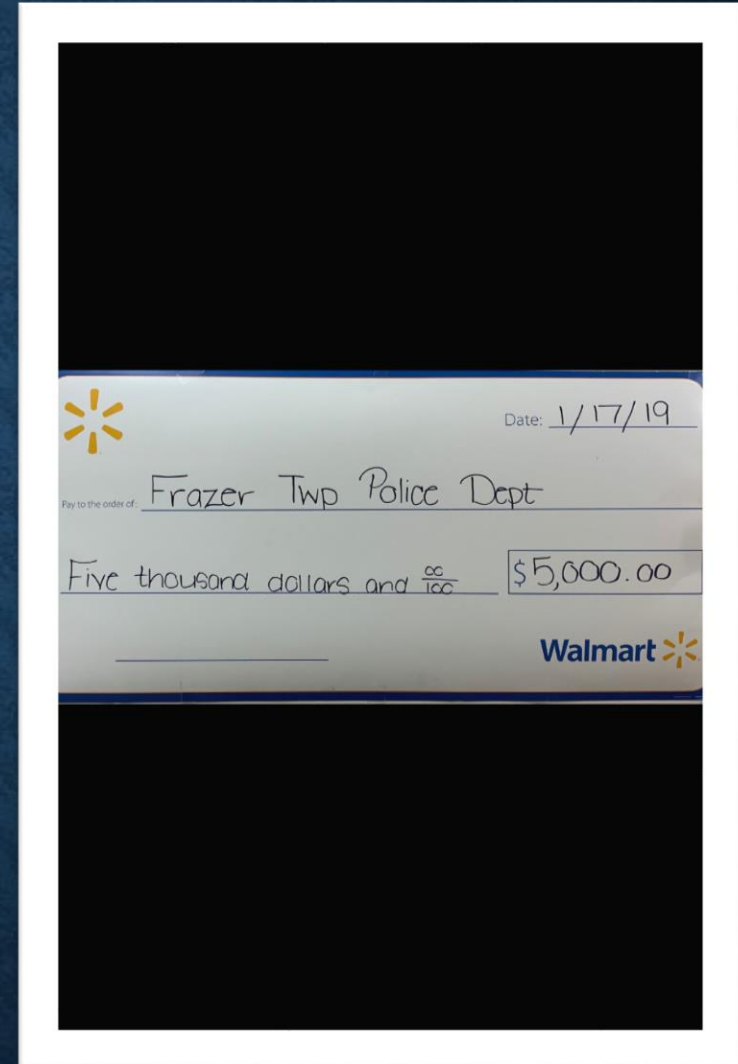

James J. Jordan, 42, and Jahmir Andre Mitchell, 19, face felony charges of participating in a corrupt organization, receiving stolen property and retail theft and a misdemeanor conspiracy charge. They remain at large.

As of Tuesday afternoon, police had not filed charges against a third man believed to have been involved in the alleged heist.

Court paperwork outlining the charges against Jordan and Mitchell say police responded to Walmart ea
Dec. 18 for a reported shoplifting in progress. This

PITTSBURGH MILLS SIGN

This is a sign for the Pittsburgh Mills Mall, which is where the police department is located.

DODGE RAM

Frazer has an undercover, blacked-out Dodge Ram Truck that they use for investigations. That way, people don't know that it's the police. I never got the chance to ride in it, which is rather disappointing.

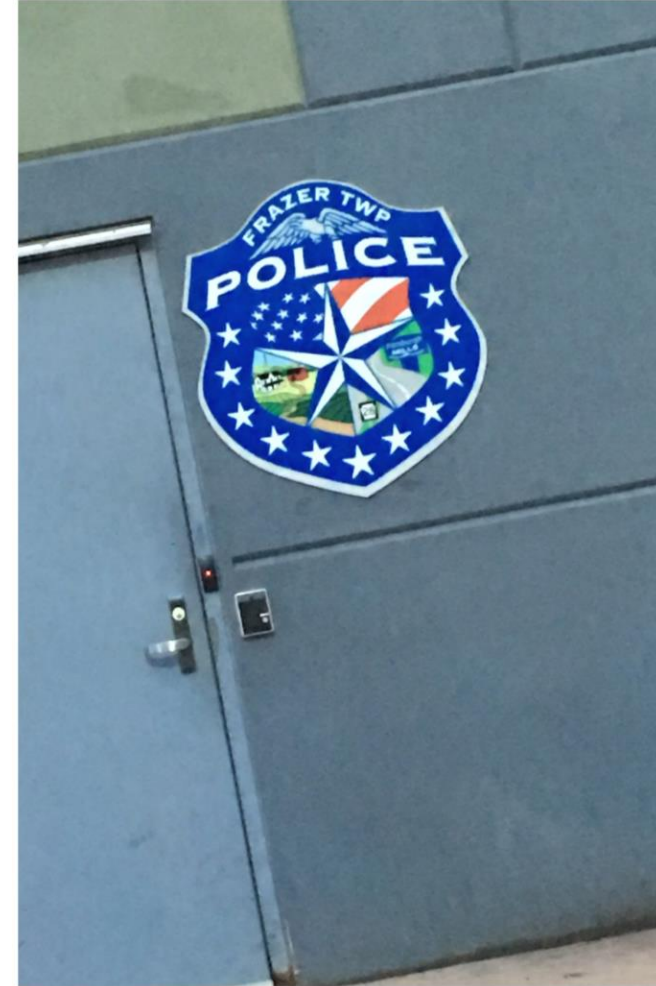

CRUISER

This is what the Frazer Township Police cruiser looks like. Frazer has 2 cruisers. They are almost identical except one has a siren called the howler that is meant to vibrate the ground in case people can't hear the siren.

FRAZER POLICE SIGN ON BUILDING

This is what the outside of the police station looks like.
The officers have a code to get into the door but visitors need to knock.

WHITE SPEED TRAP

A common place where the officers like to sit and conduct speed tests.

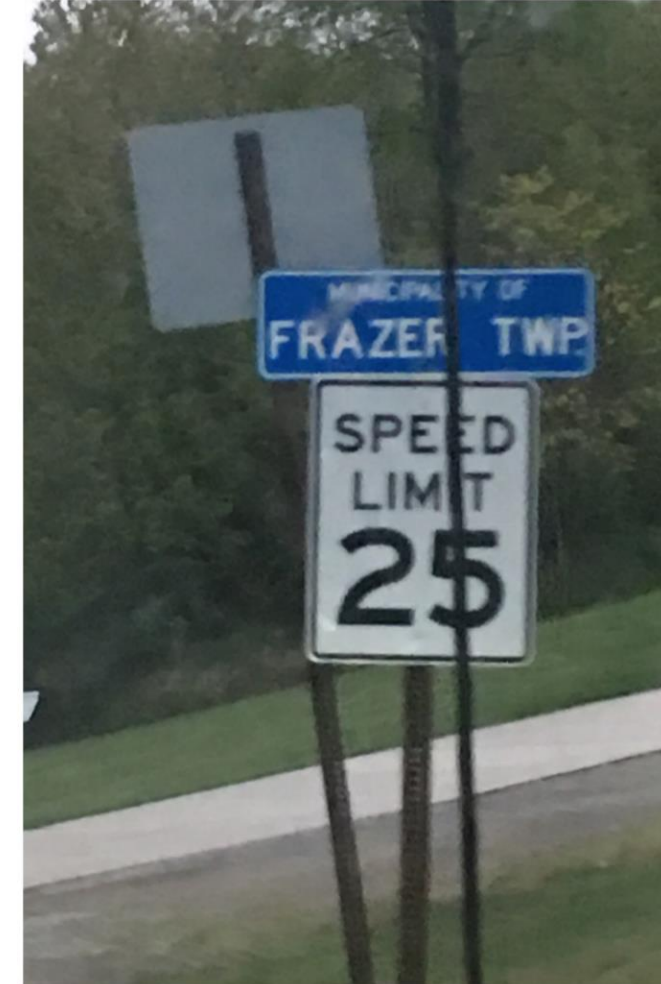

STOP LIGHT

There has been construction on the bridge to the mall for quite some time so there is a temporary traffic light.

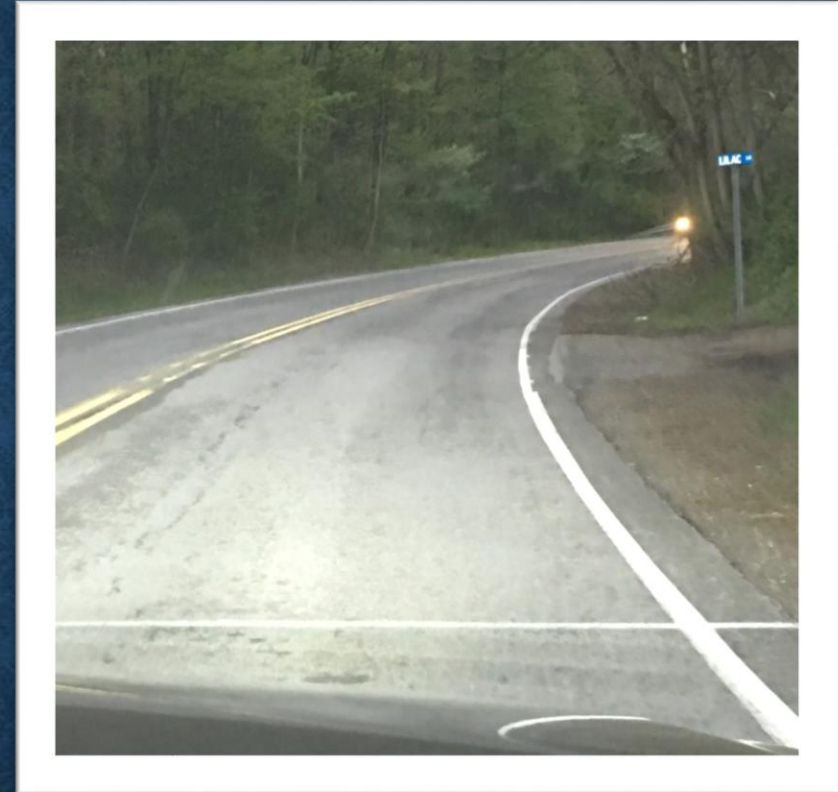

MUNICIPALITY OF FRAZER SIGN

This sign indicates the beginning line of Frazer Township. This is where the police have jurisdiction.

SPEED LINE

White line that indicates a possible speed trap. This is how officers know when to start and stop their speed watch.

FRAZER MUNICIPALITY SIGN

This municipality sign is at the entrance of the mall.
